The image shows the cover of the 'Human Factor 2017' report by Proofpoint. The background is a dark blue-grey color. In the top right corner, the 'proofpoint.' logo is written in white. The title 'HUMAN FACTOR 2017' is prominently displayed in large, bold, orange letters on the left side. To the right of the title, there are several stylized illustrations: a red key, a stack of blue cards, a woman in a red dress and striped shirt, and a man in a dark suit. Below the title, there are two paragraphs of white Japanese text. The first paragraph states that phishing is not just about codes but exploits human weaknesses. The second paragraph explains that cybercriminals use various methods to trick users, such as phishing emails and social media posts, and that the report summarizes trends from 2016.
