The advertisement features a collection of BRANTER skincare products. On the left, there is a tall, clear glass serum bottle with a gold-colored cap and a smaller jar of cream. To the right, there are three smaller sample-sized products: two tubes and one jar. The background is a soft, light blue gradient with a subtle bokeh effect. Text is placed around the products to highlight a 20% discount for first-time buyers, a ¥1,000 discount for purchases over 3,000 yen, and the benefits of the brand's stem cell science against photoaging. A note encourages customers to start with sample products.
