This is a promotional banner for the 'Yamamoto Shunichi Memorial Award' established by Okayama University. The banner features the university's logo and name at the top. The main text announces the award, which honors good examples and teams in research and development management at universities and research institutions. A portrait of a man is shown on the right. Logos for 'Research University Consortium' and 'J-PEAKS' are on the left. The bottom of the banner includes the university's motto and several small partner logos.
